Circuit Court Backs Unions

Supports Labor On Pension Rule

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals held today that qualified unions can require employers to bargain with them about pensions.

The court also upheld the constitutionality of a provision of the Taft-Hartley law requiring union officials to sign affidavits that they are not Communists.

The ruling sustained a National Labor Relations Board order that the Inland Steel company must discuss pensions with the CIO United Steelworkers—if union officers sign non-Communist affidavits.

If upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court, lawyers said, the ruling will: 1—Bring the entire subject of pension or retirement plans within the realm of collective bargaining. The order will apply to all unionized companies in interstate commerce—whether or not a pension plan now exists. Employers will have to consult the recognized bargaining agent before changing the existing pension program.

Deprive Unions Of NLRB

2—Deprive unions of the services of the National Labor Relations Board in collective bargaining elections and other matters unless union officials comply with the non-Communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Officials of several big unions, including the CIO United Steel Workers, the United Mine Workers and the CIO Longshoremen, have refused to sign non-Communist affidavits.

The court agreed unanimously on the pension issue but split 2-1 on the legality of the non-Communist oath requirement.

The company said it would appeal.

Select Three Judges

The court held that pensions fell into the category of "other conditions of employment." As a condition of employment, the court said, it is a fit subject for collective bargaining.

The judges are Otto Kerner, Sherman Minton and J. Earl Major.

In the majority opinion on the non-Communist requirement, Kerner said:

"It seems to me that it was rational for Congress to conclude that members of the Communist party or persons affiliated with such party who believe in and teach the overthrow of the United States government by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods were much more likely than others to misuse the powers which inhere in union office."

"Hence I conclude that Congress acted within its constitutional powers."

2,000,000 Men Eligible For Draft Into Armed Forces

Washington, Sept. 23—(AP)—First reports from registration centers indicate America's armed forces will have a pool of about 2,000,000 single, non-veteran men 18 through 25 in which to dip for draftees.

However, many of these will be deferred because of occupation, physical handicaps and other reasons. Selective Service would not estimate officially how many Americans are actually eligible for induction.

If earlier defense estimates stand, only about 250,000 will be inducted for the 21-month peacetime draft between now and June 30, and officials believe there will be little trouble getting this many. Almost all of the 250,000 will go into the army.

Selective Service said today reports from 43 states, territories and possessions show 5,208,413 men 18 through 25 registered between Aug. 30 and Sept. 18.

Of this total, 1,265,214 are in the classification eligible for induction.

Russians Reduce Sentences Of German Youths

Berlin, Sept. 23—(AP)—The Berlin radio said tonight the Russians have reduced the 25-year sentences given five young Germans for rioting at the Brandenburg Gate.

The severity of the penalties had caused much indignation. The radio said the terms were reduced to eight years for two youths, and to four, three and one year for the others.

The rioting occurred during the greatest rally in Berlin since the war, with anti-Communists renouncing Russia and the German Communists who had muscled into the city hall. At one point, Russian troops fired into a group of demonstrators.

Warren Asserts Demo Government Tired Of Itself

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 23—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren tonight promised a Republican streamlining of the "vast mystic maze" and "topsy-turvy complexity" of governmental bureaus.

An "inbred" Democratic administration now "breaking open at the seams," he declared, has become an administration of "organized chaos."

Reorganization of the executive branch is "long past due," Warren said, and it is now high time the taxpayer "gets a dollar's worth of service for each tax dollar spent."

Coming for the first time onto the solid Republican ground of Ohio, the Republican vice presidential nominee gave the Truman administration a gloves-off going over.

It was an administration, he said, that "was tired and peevish to the point of abusiveness."

"The administration is tired—tired of itself. It is discordant. It is breaking up. It would have been far better for it, as well as the country, if it had been voted out of authority long before this."

But for the good of the country and the American two-party system of government, he asserted, "I earnestly hope the Democratic party will not split like the atom."

Plan Under Way To Provide State With Rural Medics

Chicago, Sept. 24—(AP)—A unique plan to provide more "country doctors" in Illinois started rolling today.

Three students from rural areas were granted loans of $5,000 each for their medical education on their promise to practice in rural communities after they become doctors.

They are the first beneficiaries of the $100,000 joint medical student fund set up by the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Illinois State Medical society to finance the medical studies.

The students, who have completed their pre-medical courses, are: Burton E. Bagby, 35, Mounds, Pulaski county. He is a war veteran and father of three children. He took his pre-medical course at Memphis (Tenn.) State College and will study at Loyola University Stritch College of Medicine in Chicago.

L. C. Fiene, 21, Sparta, Franklin county. He took pre-medical studies at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, and will attend the University of Illinois College of Medicine, Chicago.

Lawrence R. Irish, 20, Blandinsville, McDonough county, who completed his pre-medical studies at the University of Illinois.

Elizabeth Bentley Faces Libel Suit By Remington

Washington, Sept. 23—(AP)—Elizabeth Bentley, whose testimony about a wartime Russian spy ring touched off the current series of congressional investigations, was threatened with a libel suit today by one of the men she accused.

William W. Remington, who is on suspension from the Commerce Department awaiting the outcome of a loyalty inquiry, demanded that Miss Bentley make "a satisfactory public retraction" of her charges against him.

If one is not forthcoming by noon next Thursday, Remington said, he will sue for libel. His attorney said the amount of damages to be sought would be "a very substantial sum."

Other developments in the double-barreled investigations being conducted by House and Senate committees included:

1. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) charged that his investigation had been "thwarted" by President Truman and Chief of Staff General Clark. He said FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover was denied permission to tell the Senators what he knows about foreign espionage in the United States.

2. Clark denied that he had ever refused Hoover permission to testify, and said the Senator "deliberately misstates the facts" in an effort to win support in his race for reelection.

3. Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said he would recommend to the House un-American activities committee tomorrow that two unnamed atomic scientists and a communist operative be indicted on espionage charges.

4. Rep. Hebert (D-La.), a member of the same House committee, said the group had turned up no evidence "at all" of any spying here since the war.

ROODHOUSE ROTARY HEARS FRANK VEITH

Roodhouse—Rotarian Frank Veith of Roodhouse told members of the Rotary club about his recent trip to Minnesota during the meeting here Wednesday evening. W. H. Wolfe was in charge of the program. Visiting Rotarians from Jacksonville were George Carpenter and Tom Barber.

URGE ARABS TO ACCEPT BERNADOTTE'S PLAN

Paris, Sept. 23—(AP)—Britain is urging the Arabs to accept the late Count Folke Bernadotte's proposals for Palestine peace, a spokesman for the British delegation to the U. N. assembly said tonight.

"It can be taken for granted that Britain is using its influence both in the Arab capitals and among the Arab delegations at the United Nations assembly here to have the Bernadotte report accepted," the spokesman said.

Offer Reward For Slayers Of Count Folke Bernadotte

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 23—(AP)—Israel offered a reward of $20,000 tonight for information leading to the arrest of Count Folke Bernadotte assassins.

Prime Minister David Ben Gurion, in making the announcement to the legislative assembly, declared the government had seized all known stern gang military bases and arm caches and arrested 246 members of the group without encountering resistance. He said 184 of those arrested were rounded up in Jerusalem.

That Sternists have not been completely rounded up was shown by the appearance of posters in Jerusalem last night threatening all "foreign influences and mediators."

The posters were signed by the "Jehad Front," an alleged splinter group of the outlawed Stern gang which has claimed responsibility for the Bernadotte assassination.

President Works For Support Of Liberal Vote

Los Angeles, Sept. 23—(AP)—President Truman cried out to American Liberals tonight to "unite" and not toss votes away on a "powerless" Third party he said "the Communists are guiding and using."

"This," the President said "is a championship fight. I do not believe anybody is going to win this fight by running away from the record or ducking the issues."

To Liberals leaning toward Henry A. Wallace's Third party, Mr. Truman called out:

"Think again."

"This is the hour for the Liberal forces of America to unite," he said. "We have hopes to fulfill and goals to attain. Together we can rout the forces of reaction once again."

The chief executive's attempt to cut away Wallace's following came in a major campaign address prepared for delivery to a Los Angeles crowd gathered in Gilmore Stadium. Politicians generally have agreed that a heavy vote for Wallace would damage the Democrats worse than the Republicans.

But the President said the underlying struggle in the campaign is between Democrats and Republicans, between two sets of ideals.

"The Democratic ideal of America," he said, "is summed up in the four freedoms: freedom from want; freedom from fear; freedom of worship; freedom of speech."

"The Republican ideal, as I have seen it in action, is summed up in the phrase, 'big business first.' There is 'frightening evidence,' Mr. Truman declared, that if the country goes Republican 'everything is likely to be all wrong within a very short time.'"

Hurricane Moving Up The Atlantic; May Hit Bermuda

Miami, Fla., Sept. 23—(AP)—The two-flashed hurricane that mauled Cuba and Florida continued on its way up the Atlantic tonight, threatening to sideswipe Bermuda with gale force winds.

In a 4:15 p.m. (CST) advisory, the weather bureau said the storm was about 360 miles southeast of Wilmington, N. C., moving northeast to east northeast at 19 miles an hour.

Strongest winds are still near 100 miles an hour and gales extend outward 250 miles from the center, with hurricane winds over a 50-mile radius.

The center is expected to pass northwest of Bermuda near noon tomorrow, with heavy gales near hurricane force likely to sweep the island resort.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—A young bridegroom of less than a month shot himself to death yesterday after his wife refused to patch up their differences.

He is Theodore Augustine, 22, his wife, Cecilia, 20, told police he threatened her before he turned a gun on himself.

Marshall Warns Soviets U.S. Not Weak

Paris, Sept. 23—(AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall told Russia today that the United States will not compromise on principles to win peace.

He also warned the Soviet that American patience must not be misunderstood for weakness. That would be a tragic error, he said.

The calm-voiced secretary did not mention Russia by name in his American policy declaration to the United Nations General Assembly. But delegates who listened carefully agreed he was talking directly to the Soviet Union and her satellites.

Preceded By Philippines

Marshall was preceded only by the Philippines in the assembly's opening general debate. Informal sources said he requested that early spot months ago so there would be no mistake about the United States policy in the current meeting of the "world parliament."

The Soviet sphere apparently understood Marshall's message. Poland quickly followed with a blistering attack on alleged American imperialism—principally the European recovery program.

Marshall said the United States will not "compromise the essential principles" or "barter away the rights and freedom of other peoples."

No Surprise

He pulled no surprises like last year's demand for creation of the little assembly. He did urge continuation of the little assembly for another year, opened the door to the Russian-led minority to cooperate, and declared that there are no mechanical majorities as Russia has charged.

In a speech which drew immediate favorable comment from non-Communist delegates, Marshall carefully laid down the American position on major problems before the assembly and closed with these words:

"The United Nations has sought to promote the free exchange of ideas on a basis of full reciprocity. The effort is of the greatest political importance. Any government which by deliberate action cuts itself and its people off from the rest of the world becomes incapable of understanding the problems and policies of other governments and other peoples. It would be a tragic error, because of such misunderstanding, the patience of others should be mistaken for weakness."

Would Alleviate Tension

"The United States does not wish to increase the existing tension. It is its wholehearted desire to alleviate that tension."

"But we will not compromise essential principles. We will under no circumstances barter away the rights and freedoms of other peoples. We earnestly hope that all members will find ways of contributing to the lessening of tensions and the promotion of peace with justice. The peoples of the earth are anxiously watching our efforts here. We must not disappoint them."

Polish Military Attache In U.S. Won't Go Home

Washington, Sept. 23—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Izydor Modelski, military attache of the Polish embassy, said tonight that he has refused an order of the communist government of Poland to return home.

Instead, he said, he is asking the United States government to grant asylum for himself and his family.

In a statement issued through a Polish friend who recently became an American citizen, the 60-year-old general charged that the Polish army "is controlled by Soviet generals and officers."

Modelski said that the present Polish government has "liquidated independent political parties" in the country and has now "intensified its attacks on the last independent institution, which is the church in Poland."

Remove 6 From Stricken Ship

Miami, Fla., Sept. 23—(AP)—Six passengers are en route to Kingston, Jamaica, today after being taken off the grounded British freighter Lochmonar off little Cayman island.

The SS Caymanian removed the passengers yesterday but the 67 crew members remain aboard the Lochmonar. The tug Curb is standing by for salvage operations.

The Lochmonar grounded in heavy seas Sunday when the tropical hurricane passed close by. It was en route from San Francisco to Cuba.

Slav Executive Arrested As Alien, Released On Bond

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—George Pirinsky, 48, executive secretary of the American-Slav Congress, was arrested today on a warrant charging him, as an alien, with belonging to an organization advocating forcible overthrow of the United States government.

In Washington, the Justice Department said the action against Pirinsky is based upon alleged membership in the Communist party, not upon his affiliation with the American-Slav Congress.

The department said that Pirinsky "affiliated with the Communist party after his entry into this country, in violation of the immigration statutes."

Pirinsky was in Chicago for the fourth American-Slav Congress which opens tomorrow in the Stevens hotel. He was arrested in the office of the immigration and naturalization bureau and later released under $1,000 bond.

Marcus T. Neelly, the bureau's district enforcement officer, made the arrest on a warrant issued by the commissioner of immigration in Washington. Neelly said Pirinsky's lawyer posted bond for him in New York.

Jewish Fighter Plane Downs Arab Airliner, Two Die

Amman, Trans-Jordan, Sept. 23—(AP)—The Arab Legion charged that a Jewish fighter plane shot down an Arab airliner today, killing two British correspondents.

An Arab Legion spokesman charged the incident was a violation of the Palestine truce and said a vigorous investigation was being demanded of U. N. observers.

(This was the third incident in recent days heightening Palestine tension beginning with the assassination of the U. N. mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte and a French aide last Friday in Jerusalem. Yesterday Arabs attacked a U. N.-sponsored Jewish convoy at Latrun and killed four persons, including an American.)

Arab Legion headquarters said David Woodford, of the London Daily Telegraph, John Nixon of the BBC, and an Arab from Acre were killed when the Jewish fighter "attacked over Lebanese territory and crashed the airliner nearly 20 miles into Trans-Jordan. There the airliner crashed and burned, injuring two other passengers and the pilot."

Stevenson Blames Green For Defeat Of Crime Bills

Danville, Ill., Sept. 23—(AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for governor, tonight said "Green and his gang" were responsible for the defeat of the crime commission bills in the last session of the state legislature.

In a campaign speech prepared for delivery here tonight, Governor Dwight H. Green's opponent in the Nov. 2 general elections said:

"Governor Green and his advisors didn't think the crime commission bills were important enough, or perhaps they were afraid of them."

Stevenson said that state Rep. Peter C. Granata (R-Chicago) and Simon Murray (R-Chicago), Republican candidate for auditor of public accounts, were the "Lord high executioners" of the crime commission bills.

Stevenson asked:

"What has happened to the Dwight Green who was once advertised as a gang buster?"

"What has happened to the Dwight Green who, his biography says, fought the Capone mob so bravely and who promised to break up the alliance between crime and politics?"

Task Force 38 Will Sail For Far East Ports

Washington, Sept. 23—(AP)—Naval task force 38, operating with two carriers and supporting warships, will sail for Far East ports, including China, on October 1.

Navy spokesmen said the carriers Tarawa and Princeton and their screening craft would be on a "regularly scheduled routine cruise," visiting the "usual ports" of Yokosuka in Japan and Tsingtao in China.

It is expected that one or perhaps two destroyer divisions (a division normally consists of four ships) and about three cruisers will accompany the task force presumably will be at sea or in Far East ports for three or four months if the pattern of similar cruises is followed.

The two carriers now are at San Diego, Calif., preparing for the cruise.

Navy spokesmen said, in answer to a question, that the task force is not sailing because of any emergency.

SUSPECT SUBMITS TO LIE DETECTOR TEST

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 23—(AP)—Sheriff Boyd Kimmel said today a lie detector test had indicated that Emory Lounsbury, 39 year old ex-convict, had no knowledge of two lover's lane killings near Oregon, Ill. June 25.

Lounsbury, held here on burglary charges, was taken to Chicago for questioning on the lie detector yesterday.

Authorities had been questioning Lounsbury in the fatal shooting of Stanley Skrida, 28, Rockford telephone lineman, and Mary Jane Reed, 17, whose bodies were found near Oregon.

Four Youths Using Forest Preserve For Hideout Found

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—A gang of four youths, who had been using forest preserve woods for a hideaway, was rounded up today by forest rangers.

Lt. Daniel Conway of the Rangers gave this account:

"The boys had been sleeping in a three-sided shelter in the preserve. Rangers were set on their trail after a tool shed had been broken into and tools scattered over forest paths."

Rangers saw a car, reported stolen, being driven into the woods. They arrested the driver, Gerald P. Gueder, 15, who said he stole the car and had been A.W.O.L. from Champaign Field since Sept. 13. He said he had falsified his age to enlist.

Gender gave Lt. Conway a secret signal—a low whistle used by the gang after dusk to indicate the coast was clear in approaching the hideout.

Rangers posted themselves in the underbrush and sounded the whistle at intervals. After waiting several hours they saw three dim figures crawling through the brush—and pounced upon them.

Truman Virtually Sure Of Place On Louisiana Ticket

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 23—(AP)—President Truman appeared assured today of a place on Louisiana's November ballot.

The state legislature in special session kept rolling a proposal to restore his name. The measure would give Truman supporters until Oct. 5 to file a petition with the secretary of state signed by 10 qualified voters nominating 10-electoral candidates pledged to him.

An alternative procedure to permit the Democratic national committee to file a slate of electoral candidates with the secretary of state was stricken in committee. That provision was a fighting matter to states' rights Democrats in battle with the national committee.

The amended bill received unanimous committee approval and was expected to receive House action tomorrow.

On fruits and vegetables, the maximum increase would be 8 cents per 100 pounds.

On sugar and lumber, the maximum increase would be 5 cents per 100 pounds.

The railroads have been granted two freight rate increases since the war, each averaging about 10 per cent.

Woman Alive After Son Reports Her Slain, Buried

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 23—(AP)—Police chief Ben Redden said today Mrs. Clarence E. Marshall, reported by her five-year-old son to have been killed and buried, was found alive and well today at Fortageville, Mo.

Chief Redden said he talked with the woman by telephone this afternoon, 12 hours after her husband was reported by Deputy Sheriff Forest Castle at Phoenix, Ariz., to have signed a statement that he buried his wife after she committed suicide here last spring.

Marshall, a 33-year-old railroad laborer who formerly lived here, was taken into custody earlier this week at Gila Bend, Ariz. Deputy Castle said he was questioned about statements of his five-year-old son, Earl, that "daddy cut up my mommy and buried her by the side of the road."

Chief Redden said he located the woman through a theatrical publication.

Would Jump Freight Costs 8 Per Cent

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—The nation's railroads announced today they will seek another 8 per cent increase in freight rates.

An increase somewhat less than that amount will be sought on certain excepted commodities.

The decision was announced by traffic executives of the railroads after a series of conferences here this week.

W. H. Dana, Chicago, chairman of the western traffic executives committee, said current freight rate levels were not producing sufficient revenue to meet the carriers' requirements.

To Ask Commerce Commission

The increase which will be asked of the Interstate Commerce Commission, he said, does not anticipate the outcome of current wage negotiations or disputes involving 1,350,000 railroad workers.

"Any further increase in railroad operating costs which might result from pending demands of the unions is a bridge that will have to be crossed when we come to it," Dana said.

Dana said the present freight rates had "failed after a trial period to produce adequate revenue despite the heavy volume of traffic that is being handled."

Exceptions to the proposed 8 per cent rate increase will be as follows, Dana said:

The carriers' petition filed with the commission Aug. 26 to raise the rates on coal and coke in all territories will be amended to ask an additional 5 cents a net ton and 6 cents a gross ton.

Will Increase Iron Ore

Similarly, the proposed increase on iron ore in eastern and southern territories will be raised 5 cents a ton, net or gross, under the plan.

On iron ore in the western territory, the proposed increase is 25 cents per net or gross ton, except to the head of the lakes for water shipment beyond. No increase is proposed in dumping charges.

Other rates and charges, including charges for accessorial services but not including charges for wharfage, handling and tipping at southern ports which are absorbed by the carriers would be increased 8 per cent.

On fruits and vegetables, the maximum increase would be 8 cents per 100 pounds.

On sugar and lumber, the maximum increase would be 5 cents per 100 pounds.

The railroads have been granted two freight rate increases since the war, each averaging about 10 per cent.

RENTOX GIVES KIDNEY RELIEF AFTER OTHER REMEDIES FAIL

Mr. J. Goldfuss, 511 S. 9th St., Springfield, Can Now Get A Good Night's Sleep.

"I am 78 years old and have been troubled with a kidney ailment for over seven years. I had to get up six or seven times each night and was even bothered during the day. I have tried every kidney remedy that I have ever heard of but they did very little good. I saw Rentox advertised and decided to start using it. After a short time I began to get relief and I now find I do not have to get up more than once a night. I believe Rentox is definitely a wonderful medicine and would recommend it to anyone suffering from the ailments that caused me so much distress."

Speakers At Institute

JOHN MARSHALL ZIV

RAY O. DUNCAN

Two of the six speakers scheduled to appear on the program at the annual Morgan County Teachers Institute, to be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, are John Marshall Ziv and Ray O. Duncan.

Mr. Ziv is consultant in applied color to Luminol Paints, a division of the National Chemical and Manufacturing Co., as well as director of public relations for the company.

It was under the supervision of Mr. Ziv that Luminol Paints first introduced the now widely-known "Harmon Technique," a term used to describe the research of Dr. Darrell Boyd Harmon, Texas physiologist and educationist, whose color and light studies have startled the scientific world. Because of the national education program he is conducting in the Harmon Technique, Mr. Ziv has become known as one of the leading exponents of coordinated lighting.

He is a graduate of the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern university, and his writings on technical subjects have appeared in thousands of newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

He will speak before high school and elementary teachers Friday at both the morning and afternoon sessions.

His morning talk is entitled "The Classroom as a Factor in Growth and Developmental Difficulties."

His afternoon topic is "The Harmon Technique of Coordinating the Classroom for Optimum Development."

Also on the speakers platform Friday morning will be Ray O. Duncan, state director of health, physical education and safety, Office of Public Instruction. Mr. Duncan received his L.L.B. from Washington university and his M. A. and Ed.M. from the University of Illinois, where he will complete work for his doctor's degree this summer.

He has been associated with the physical education department of the U. of I. and the Granite City and Anna-Jonesboro high schools. Three of his books have been published.

The topic of his address, to be given before teachers of the high school, is "Health—The First Object of Education."

Old Shirts and a Dream Built a Doll

Mrs. Lottie Brock patches up loose ends of the family budget as a doll-maker.

By NEA Service
Ripley, Okla.—(NEA)—It's money in the bank to the Brock family every time father wears out a shirt. It didn't use to be that way, but a dream coupled with an ingenious idea suddenly turned a modest farm home into a rag doll factory. Now Mrs. Lottie Brock is using her spare time and her husband's worn-out shirts to average $300 a year as a doll-maker.

"Of course, it isn't a great lot," says the 57-year-old Oklahoma farm woman, "but it certainly helps to patch up loose ends of the family budget."

The whole idea grew out of a dream one summer night three years ago. A doll, 18 inches tall, played the dominant role in Mrs. Brock's dream and as it skipped along in slumberland, the dreamer was amazed to note it had a familiar look. It turned out that the familiar look was her husband's "Sunday-go-to-meeting" shirt. The doll looked as if it had been cut out of the tail of that good shirt.

Most women likely would have dismissed such an experience. But Mrs. Brock decided it would be fun to substitute an old shirt and try her hand at creating a rag doll, one similar to the lead player of her dream.

Two hours at the sewing machine and the doll came into being, except for the finishing up work like embroidering lips and eyelashes. Once again this might have ended the farm woman's rag doll experience, except for a visitor who took special interest in the product and offered to buy it. Mrs. Brock was embarrassed and somewhat amazed. She forced the admirer to take the doll for free.

Mrs. Brock then made more dolls, giving them away to friends, small nieces and cousins. Her own children had outgrown the doll stage, but there was one adult who had not. She was Mrs. Rose Jacobs, owner of the small farming town's gift shop. She asked for a dozen dolls to sell on a commission basis.

The dolls sold like hotcakes. She urged Mrs. Brock to increase her production and even then turned doll customers away as word of the new product spread to larger cities in the area. The doll-maker still makes no attempt to keep pace with the demand, but she has shipped her dolls as far away as Maine and in June filled an order from Arkansas.

"We could sell all these dolls we could get," said the gift shop operator, who mourns the fact Mrs. Brock looks upon her work as a hobby and not a business.

The dolls bring from $3 for the smallest size to $10 and $12 for larger ones in more expensive dress. Friends have told her she could easily double her income by spending more time at doll-making, but Mrs. Brock isn't interested. She thinks $300 a year is about all that can be expected from worn-out shirts.

The pallbearers were Otto Berg, Keith Angle, Joe Killebrew, Roy Stauffer, Rance Oglesby and Charles Boeten.

Interment was in the Pine Tree cemetery near Patterson.

Mr. Thompson was born at Zanesville, O., on June 18, 1872. His death occurred at his home in Hillview on Sept. 16, following a brief illness.

For 27 years, Mr. Thompson made his home in Alton and surrounding communities. He was employed at the Alton Vindgar Co. for 22 years before ill health compelled him to retire. He had made his home in Hillview since 1942.

Surviving are his wife, Anna; a daughter, Mrs. George Perkins of Jerseyville; a brother, Earl, of Omaha, Neb.; three step-daughters, Mrs. Leonard Pranger of Edwardsville, Mrs. Fred Ekstrom of Galesburg, and Mrs. Johnny Newingham of Hillview; and seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Grandma Moses' painting formula is simplicity.

By NEA Service

Eagle Bridge, N.Y.—(NEA)—Arthritis turned Grandma Moses into what competent art critics describe as the dean of contemporary American primitives.

Grandma — more formally Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, widow of the late Thomas S. — will be 88 on Sept. 7. She has been painting only since she was 76. She has been recognized as an artist only since she was about 82. Yet today her name and fame are known all over the country.

Tourists by the hundreds beat a path to her door. Because she is so old, and tires so easily, her son and other relatives have had to turn themselves into a virtual palace guard to keep the crowds away.

All this because arthritis made her so lame she couldn't comfortably do housework any more.

Born on a farm in upstate New York, Grandma Moses has spent her life in hard work with few moments for recreation, amusement and private hobbies. One of a family of 10 children, she started helping her mother at an early age and, when only 14, she left home to work and care for an elderly couple.

Following her marriage at the age of 27 to Thomas S. Moses, a Virginia farmer, her days and years were spent in rearing her own family of 10 children.

After 18 years in the Old Dominion, Mrs. Moses returned to New York where she now lives on an upstate farm run by her youngest son Hugh and his wife Dorothy. Here part of the load of farm work to which she was accustomed was lifted from her shoulders. But she still kept busy sewing and cleaning, cooking and making preserves and picking berries in the summertime.

At 76, however, spells of arthritis began to make strenuous work too painful, and Grandma Moses had to give up most of her jobs around the house. It was then that she felt the need for an outlet for her unspent energy and her still active imagination.

So Grandma took up painting.

What followed is an amazing success story. Only this time it is a frail old lady who, after a lifetime of humble privacy, stepped into the public limelight almost overnight.

It was virtually by accident. Her pictures, which she had been either giving away or displaying in a village drugstore, were taken to New York by friends and exhibited in a one-man show. They were an almost immediate hit.

Today, museums and private collections all over the country own her works and a "genuine Moses" is highly valued by collectors.

The appeal of Grandma Moses' works seems to lie in their simplicity. And this at a time when the emphasis in art is on the abstract and psychological.

Mrs. Moses' naive and forceful paintings of landscape have gained the following of art lovers who, after trying to see the beauty and deep meaning of many a modern work of art, have said, "We do not understand."

Receive Rewards For A Job Well Done

Reid Martin and Tom Cornish were the central figures in an informal ceremony Wednesday when they were presented with gifts for making an outstanding record in the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce membership campaign. With these two hard-hitting campaigners setting the pace, and many others joining in the work, the membership was boosted more than 100 in a drive that lasted only 48 hours. Shown in the picture (left to right) are Hugh Gibson, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Earl M. Spink, Tom Cornish, Reid Martin, Harold Gibson and W. O. Randall. Mr. Randall and Earl M. Spink served as co-chairmen of the successful campaign.

Grand prizes for the winning workers were presented by Harold Gibson. Mr. Cornish is shown holding a Nesco casserole, donated by the National Enameling & Stamping Company. Mr. Martin has his arm wrapped affectionately around a topcoat donated by J. Capps & Sons and Mac's Clothes Shop.

Honor Phone Linemen For Rescue At Crash

Six telephone employees who were first to arrive at the scene of an airplane crash near Alexander on Feb. 20, 1947, were presented with Theodore N. Vail citations for noteworthy public service at a luncheon Thursday in the Leland hotel at Springfield.

The citations, presented by Blaine Cummins, general manager of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, were for "initiative and prompt courageous action" in assisting in the rescue of two men who were fatally injured in the accident.

Telephone employees honored are Howard N. Heaton, Harold V. Brown and Arthur J. Yorgger of Springfield; Gerald H. Basso and Caswell M. Hurt, both of Athens, Ill., and Carroll N. Foote of Nebo, Ill. Heaton is a line foreman and the others are linemen.

A seventh citation was sent to William T. Johnson of Springfield, a member of the crew at the time of the rescue action, now in military service.

Crew Saw Plane Fall

The telephone crew was driving east on U. S. Route 36 when a small plane crashed a short distance east of Alexander, about 300 feet from the highway. The pilot, John W. Villagomez of Guam, was hanging head downward over the side of the cockpit, one of his feet caught in the wreckage. His companion on the flight, Keith Brown of Pekin, formerly of Jacksonville, had been thrown to the ground.

Realizing the danger of explosion and fire, Heaton immediately directed two of his crew to assist two railroad section men who were at the scene in removing the passenger from the danger area, and sent the others to the plane to extricate the pilot.

Despite their rescue efforts, Villagomez was found to be dead. Brown was given first aid, but died the following day.

A number of telephone company officials were present at the Springfield luncheon.

Fire On Window Sill At Station

The Gulf service station at North Main and Walnut streets was endangered by fire at 6 o'clock Thursday morning when a blaze started on a window sill in one of the rest rooms.

Firemen used a hand pump to get the best of the small fire, which caused only minor damage to the sill and casing.

Spareribs, barbecued, make a fine dish for the informal meals and outings of Autumn.

Cook in the kitchen in the electric roaster or oven or if possible broil them slowly over glowing coals of an outdoor grill.

To barbecue, arrange the ribs on a rack and cover with your favorite sauce. Baste the meat frequently, and salt freely. Cook until meat is tender enough to fall from the bones. This will take about an hour and a half. If cooked on an outdoor grill, try to secure a few sticks of Hickory and add to fire. The smoke from these coals will add special flavor to the barbecued meat.

Place: Carrollton high school athletic field.

Illinois School for the Deaf uncorked its "questionnaire" football team for the first time tonight by invading the home ground of Carrollton's Illinois Valley conference gridgers.

Coach Art Yates' westenders are the unknown quantity in the 1948 Jacksonville football picture. Although light, the Tigers may well have what will rank as the city's grid outfit of this season.

Tough Opponent
Carrollton will provide a good test of I. S. D. gridiron night. The Hawks have already surprised most Ivy loop fans with a stunning upset of White Hall.

Tonight's fray appears to be a toss-up. Carrollton will have two distinct advantages, however—home team and 1948 experience. While I. S. D. will be entering its first tilt, the hosts will have one combat under their belts.

Either Carrollton is a grossly underrated club this year, or last week's victory was a fluke. That is the reason tonight's contest will be watched closely not only by fans of the two contestants, but by followers of every outfit in the Illinois Valley conference.

The game is not a conference fray. I. S. D. has no football conference affiliations. Carrollton is a member of the Illinois Valley loop which does not open league play until next week end.

There apparently was little doubt yesterday evening in the minds of the two mentors concerning their starting lineups. Yates listed only one "I" and Clarence "Buzzy" Jackson of Carrollton did not indicate any lineup alterations after the victory over White Hall.

Center Doubtful
I. S. D.'s one last-minute change may develop at center, when Jerry Tuchman is pushing Homer Nunes for the starting berth. Otherwise, the Tigers' starters will be exactly the players who have been participating on the first team in practice sessions this week.

Veteran Billy Yates, quarterback; Gilbert Pau, a freshman, halfback; David Early, letterman at half, and Stanley Kwiat, veteran fullback, will probably show in the I.S.D. backfield.

The Tigers' line will include Tedd Zuziak, a junior, and James Vallani, a sophomore, at ends; Irvin Carlstedt and Oliver Hoffman, lettermen, at tackles; Victor Marsala, letterman, and Robert Leiber, a sophomore, at guards; Tuchman and Nunes are the prospective centers.

The Carrollton lineup includes six lettermen.
The Hawks are banking upon their powerful backfield to punch holes in the light opposing forward wall. I. S. D. will gain most of its offensive power from its speed, both in the line and in the backfield.

Greenfield Loses 13-6 Encounter At Marquette

Alton—(Special)—Greenfield high school's gridgers yielded a seven-point advantage to Marquette in the first period here Thursday night and were never able to regain the lead in a close 13-6 contest.

The two teams were approximately even on first downs, the visitors holding a 12-11 edge.

After the hosts had tallied in the opening stanza on a straight drive, Greenfield came back in the second quarter with its own display of power and counted on Owens' dash around right end. The kick for extra point was knocked wide, however, and Coach Don Luketich's outfit left the field trailing 7-6 at the half.

Marquette dominated play in the final two periods, holding off any Greenfield threats while counting a final marker in the last canto.
Penalties and fumbles played a major part in the course of the tilt. Marquette lost 100 yards on walks by the referee, while Greenfield was penalized 95 yards.

It was a fumble which set up the last Marquette score. The home team scored shortly after on a 25-yard aerial.

Blueboys Depart For Scott Field This Afternoon

End Richard Frisky was definitely out with a charley horse and Dave Billings, second team quarterback, was on the doubtful list as the Illinois college Blueboys went through limbering-up exercises and signal drills Thursday afternoon prior to their departure for Scott Field this afternoon.

The hill toppers open their 1948 grid campaign at Scott Field Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. (D.S.T.). Coach Al Miller announced that 31 players will make the trip to the southern Illinois air base. The group includes Frisky, who won't dress, and Billings, who may also be sidelined.

The I. C. mentor said it is better condition for the opener than any he has coached at the westend school.

Making the trip today are: Vilk, Paxton, Matthews, Sam Spink, Jim Spink, Hill, Due, Grove, Lasley, Long, Williams, Schroeder, Ryan, Lachinski, Frisky, Scheller, Christison, Rust, Breakville, Harshman, Billings, Hurst, Sherrin, Johnson, Wilson, Falkenberg, Brand, Florence, Copeland and Lentz.
The team will sleep at Scott Field tonight.

Tom Stewart Jumps From Manager To Illini Starter

Champaign—Seven years ago a dark-haired good-looking youngster named Tommy Stewart couldn't make the Lew Wallace high school football team in Gary, Ind. He has to be content with being a good manager.

This fall that same Stewart may make the University of Illinois gridmen a factor in the Western Conference race because of his bullet passes. He's a leading contender to supplant Perry Moss as No. 1 Illini quarterback, and his marksmanship has alleviated worries that Illinois wouldn't have an aerial attack with Moss gone.

No Special Ability
Remarkable advancement? Yes, but even more so when one considers the words of Illini football boss Ray Eliot regarding Stewart.

"Work, good hard work, that's how he's done it," Ray accentuates. "Why, that boy hasn't extraordinary talent. He's where he is today in football because of an intense desire to play, because he's willing to work and work all the time."

To watch Stewart on the practice field is to see what Ray Eliot means. Before most of the squad is out of the dressing room, Stewart is on the field practicing passes at a target or working by himself on fakes and movements essential to a good T-formation quarterback.

When it comes calisthenics time, Stewart goes through the routine faithfully. If the assignment is competitive running, Stewart always comes in first. It's the result of perfect physical conditioning and Tom's belief that if he is to get anywhere in athletics he'll do it only by hard work.

Played In High School
The season seven years ago when Stewart was Lew Wallace manager was the last of that routine for Tommy.

The very next year, 1942, he earned a berth with the Gary preps, and by 1943 he was starting to make headlines. That season, as a senior, he scored 52 points himself and pitched six touchdown passes for 36 more points. One scoring aerial covered 55 yards.

The Navy took care of Stewart's football playing in 1944 and 1945, when he was stationed in Hawaii and saw some action with a Navy Receiving Barracks eleven. Upon discharge, Tommy headed for Illinois in 1946 as a freshman, and his accurate right arm caused Eliot to make him a quarterback.

The decision was vindicated as Tommy pitched a 22-yard scoring pass to Paul Patterson in the 1946 opener against Pittsburgh. But then Perry Moss took over and Stewart's chief action for two Illini seasons has been as defensive quarterback.

Tommy's desire to play offense prompted him to ask Eliot to switch him to halfback, the position Stewart played at Lew Wallace, and Ray obliged in drills last spring. But when Moss turned professional last summer, back to quarterback went Stewart.

Softens Passes
Tommy went to work in earnest this fall, starting behind Bernie Krueger at quarter but doing such a fine job of passing, faking, and signal-calling that he's now a good bet to get the starting call.

Stewart has a good athletic build, 6 feet and 180 pounds. He's nimble as a cat, but his chief trouble seems to come in passing too hard. His pitches often can't be held by receivers. Tommy's worked on that phase in practice, and has softened his passes enough to make him a real threat.

Only a junior, Stewart will be back again next fall. He won't be 23 until Oct. 9. For a lad who couldn't make the team seven years ago, it hasn't taken Tommy Stewart long to make his football dream come true.

Bobby Feller Once Again Acclaimed King Of Pitchers

Cleveland, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Bob Feller was back on his throne today once again acclaimed as the king of pitchers.

The brilliant Cleveland righthander, in the most important assignment of his career, showed the baseball world last night that he still had it. He proved to one and all among the third largest crowd in Cleveland history—76,772 wildly cheering rooters—that when the chips were down, he was still the Feller of old, the most feared moundman of modern times.

For it was Feller who climaxed a tremendous Redskins surge that lifted the club from third to a first place tie in the space of two weeks. It was the former Van Meter, Ia., farm boy who began the drive with a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Sept. 6, and it was he who kept it going yesterday with a brilliant 5-2 three-hit triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

"It was good to win, especially this one," Feller said while changing into street clothes after the game. "I wanted to win this one more than any other game in my life. It was the big game—the one the club had to win."

"I feel one day and a hero the next," he added. Feller did not expand his remark, but it was clear he was referring to the harsh treatment he'd been receiving from fans this season because of substitutions. Feller standard performances, Bobby held his fire until he had a target worth shooting at, and then tore the Mexican's head half off.

Cut Illini Practice Short

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 23 (AP)—Illinois football practice session was cut short today to permit the members of the squad and coaches to attend an early banquet given in their honor by Champaign-Urbana merchants.

Only two Illini will be sidelined by injuries when the team meets Kansas State here Saturday. They are Tackle Dick Mueller and Halfback Denny Asselt.

Ray Eliot, Illini coach, indicated he might use three units against the invading Wildcats.

Wolverine Back Injured

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 23 (AP)—Pullback Dick Kempthorn, the University of Michigan's Canton (Ohio) strongman, was listed as a doubtful starter today because of a pulled leg muscle as the Wolverines started tapering off for the 1948 football opener Saturday at Michigan State.

Coach Bennie Osterban said Kempthorn, Michigan's No. 1 line-backer who hurt his leg yesterday in scrimmage, may remain on the bench with Tackle Pete Dendrinis, also nursing a leg ailment.

Brennan In Irish Backfield

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23 (AP)—Terry Brennan will start at left halfback for Notre Dame against Purdue Saturday. Coach Frank Leahy said today. Brennan has been recovering from an operation for a knee injury suffered last fall.

The Irish ran through a signal drill and rehearsed their pass defense again, mindful that Bob DeMoss will be throwing for Purdue. Quarterbacks Frank Tripucka and Bob Williams worked on coffin corner punting.

Indiana Captain Ready

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 23 (AP)—Tackle John Goldsberry, Indiana captain, will be ready to go against Wisconsin Saturday. Coach Clyde Smith said today.

Goldsberry has been out of action with injuries since the Iowa game last Oct. 11 and was not expected to be in shape for the 1948 opener.

Iowa Works On Pass Defense

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 23.—Iowa line-backers spent another afternoon at intensive pass defense practice today, trying to stop the throws of Al Di Marco.

Backfield Coach Frank Carideo appeared far from satisfied with the showing as Di Marco hurled pass after completed pass.

Purdue Drills Intensively

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 23.—The Purdue Boilermakers ran through a final intensive drill on offense and defense today for their opener with Notre Dame Saturday.

Coach Stu Holcomb was still undecided whether to start Angelo Garnaghi or Bill Sprang at center. The rest of the lineup was almost certain to be Bob Heck and Clyde Grimenstein at ends, Phil O'Reilly and Pete Barbolak at tackles, Bill Horvath and Abe Gibron at guards.

Bob DeMoss at quarterback, Norbert Adams and Harry Szuborski at halfbacks and Jack Millito at fullback.

Kansas Set For Illini

Manhattan, Kas., Sept. 23 (AP)—The Kansas State College football team tapered off today with a light passing practice. The Wildcats will leave in the morning for their first game with Illinois at Champaign, Ill.

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers remained, mathematically, in the National League pennant race today as they beat the New York Giants, 7-1.

The triumph moved the Dodgers one percentage point behind the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals and within seven games of the pennant bound Boston Braves. The Braves and Cardinals were idle.

Brooklyn had seven games left to play and the Braves nine. One Dodger defeat or one Boston victory will eliminate the Dodgers.

The Dodgers broke up a close ball game with a three run eighth inning rally that Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella featured with home runs off starting and losing pitcher Monte Kennedy.

Brooklyn nicked Kennedy for two runs in the second inning on two walks, a single, Johnny Mize's error and a fly out.

Mize atoned for his error when he hit his 39th home run of the season in the seventh inning to put the Giants within a run of a deadlock. Mize now is tied with Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner for the loop's home run leadership.

Reds Edge Phillies

Yanks' Hopes Fall As Chisox Win Crucial Game

Chicago, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Yankees' drive to make it a three-way tie for the American League lead slipped into the rough Thursday as the New Yorkers suffered a 4-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox in their final game in the west.

At a result of the defeat, the 1947 world champions dropped a full game behind the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians as they started home to begin an all-important three-game series with the Boston club in New York Friday.

With only eight games remaining on the schedule for each of the contending clubs, Boston and Cleveland have won 91 and lost 55 games each, and the Yankees have won 90 and lost 56. The Yankees and Red Sox meet five times in their remaining eight games while Cleveland finishes against Detroit and Chicago.

The combination of a 31-year-old southpaw, Frank Papish, and chilly, windy weather that limited the crowd to 2,746 stopped the Bronx Bombers Thursday. Papish yielded only six hits while Ed Lopat, who prefers to pitch in hot weather, gave up five painful blows and three runs in the fourth inning.

Papish, who had lost six games in a row, turned in his second complete game of the season and his second victory against eight losses. He received no little aid from the wind which blew in from the outfield. The Yanks didn't even threaten Papish seriously except in their two scoring innings and they left ten men stranded on the bases.

Eig Fourth Inning
After each team scored a run in the third inning, the Sox settled things in the fourth when five hits were combined with a passed ball to produce Chicago's three runs.

Tigers Rally For Win

Detroit, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers rubbed out a 7-2 fifth inning deficit here Friday, coming from behind to beat the Philadelphia Athletics 8 to 7 with two big runs in the ninth.

George Vico tripled between the outfielders in left center to send Dick Wakefield and Eddie Mayo across the plate with the tying and winning runs after one man was out in the Tiger ninth. Both of them had singled.

Walt Holbrook, up to the A's from the New York bushwicks and making his first start, pitched all the way, giving up 16 hits.

Officials: Clyde McQueen, Springfield, referee; Harry Fitzhugh, Franklin, umpire; Andy Chapman, Arenzville, head linesman.
Kickoff: 8 p. m. (D.S.T.)
Place: Jacksonville High school athletic field.

A power-loaded Quincy high school eleven, showing only one non-veteran in the probable starting lineup, invades Jacksonville tonight to do battle with Coach Bob Kraushaar's Jacksonville high school Crimsons. The kickoff is scheduled for 8 p. m. (DST) at the high school athletic field.

With a speedy backfield and a large, mobile forward wall, Quincy is living up to advance predictions. The Blue Devils have lost one contest in two starts, but that was to the Knights of St. Ambrose academy in Iowa, a perennial powerhouse. In their opener the Quincy gridgers knocked off Port Madison, Iowa, 6-0.

Identical Record
Jacksonville high school, too, has won one game in a pair of tries. But the Crimsons' record is not so impressive. Their win over Winchester's green outfit and that was only by a 13-8 count. And they took a 53-7 shellacking at Pittsfield.

Coach Kraushaar was definite yesterday concerning his starting lineup for tonight. The last shadow of doubt was erased Wednesday evening when Tom Mills, light, speedy senior, injured his left arm in scrimmage. Mills is carrying the wing in a sling and won't see action tonight.

The J.H.S. mentor was considering using Mills at quarterback, but now Gene Todd will be the starter as in the first two tilts. Keith Tucker has been moved in to fill the halfback spot vacated first by John Whitacre and this week by Mills. Andy Petko seems assured of a starting nod at fullback and Stan Spotts will be at the other half.

Runkel Back In Line
Charlie Runkel will move back into the Jacksonville line, after some action at fullback. Kraushaar will stick to the game linemen as last week with that one exception. Jack Chapman, a sophomore, is teaming with Runkel at tackle. Harvey Myers and Francis Bunch are at guards. Fred Lawson and Richard Gotchall play end and Bob Fanning is at center.

Coach George Latham of Quincy has several question-marks in his first string. An injury to halfback John Pyles last week leaves some doubt about how much action he will see tonight. Jerry Allen is being groomed to do duty in his place. Tommy Johnson, the negro speed-merchant who gave Jacksonville so much trouble last year, is back at the other halfback post. Dean Macris has just about edged Don Anderson out of the quarterback berth.

Have Passing Attack
If Jacksonville is as vulnerable to passes as in last week's fray, the Blue Devils should shine. They have two fine aerial receivers in Jackson and Christie and their backfield boasts several chukkers.

But the visitors may not have to take to the air. Johnson showed his running ability last season, and he has some excellent help in the form of Pyles and Hogge, both veterans.

The Crimsons, though, may make a real game of it. They've been rounding into shape slow, as is the case with inexperienced clubs of the area.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—(AP)—If you are past 70, you are too old to drive a car, according to a report submitted by a Swedish government fact-finding committee. The committee, which has been preparing a revision of Sweden's traffic regulations, proposed that persons over 70 should not be given a driver's license. The committee also recommended that the laws affecting drunk driving be applied also to bicycles and horse-drawn vehicles.

type Kraushaar is leading. This week their practice sessions have been marked by sharper tackling and blocking than at any other time this year.

In Tucker and Petko, Kraushaar has two newcomers with great possibilities. Petko has looked good not only as a ball-carrier, but also as a blocking back and defensive player. Tucker possesses considerable speed and may give the Crimsons the threat they need on reverses over the left side of the line.

Lacked Threat To Left
It was a failure of power to the left which handicapped J.H.S. greatly in the Winchester game. Loss of Whitacre and Mills has created a problem at the one halfback spot. The injury to Johnny Walker is the Pittsfield game was also being felt greatly until Petko began to attract the coaches' eyes.

James Welch, Jacksonville high school band director, has promised another halftime display tonight. The Crimsons' musical organization attracted a considerable favorable comment in its first outing.

The lighted downs market which Henry Sommer introduced last week will also be in use again.

Mattoon-Decatur Clash Headlines Prep Grid Card

Springfield, Sept. 23.—(AP)—One of the season's niftiest passing duels is expected Friday night when Mattoon clashes with Decatur in a headline attraction on the weekend downstate prep football program.

Both lines are about evenly matched, so it may be that each team will rely on aerial attacks. Quarterback Johnny Boyle of Decatur flipped 18 passes and completed 12 good for 158 yards against Bloomington a week ago. But Mattoon also has an accurate thrower in Halfback Bill Tate, whose passing accounted directly for two touchdowns against Belleville and set up three scores against Charleston.

Neither Defeated
Neither Decatur nor Mattoon is defeated so far and the winner will be stamped as a strong contender for the Big Twelve conference prize.

Another topflight game, gives Big Eight fans a chance to see if all that praise of Joliet is justified. The steeldens, with two non-conference scraps under their belt, open up their title drive by entertaining Elgin's Maroons, who have split their two games to date.

Down south, chief interest centers on Flora at Salem. West Frankfort at Marion, and DuQuoin at Murphysboro.

The Flora-Salem tilt customarily nominates the eventual champion of the North Egyptian circuit. Each team has broken even in two starts.

West Frankfort Favored
West Frankfort, the school that rival coaches predict will capture the South Six crown, is heavily favored to get its bid going with a victory. The opponent is a weak Marion eleven that was blanked a week ago by Eldorado.

In the Southwest Egyptian race, which Murphysboro has dominated the last two years, the defending champions tackle a tough looking DuQuoin entry aching to stop Murphysboro's 19 game victory string. On Saturday, the suburban league jacks off championship competition, with Morton of Cicero at Oak Park and New Trier of Winnetka at Waukegan. The two flag favorites are Oak Park and New Trier, scheduled to clash Oct. 9.

70 CALLED TOO OLD TO DRIVE

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—(AP)—If you are past 70, you are too old to drive a car, according to a report submitted by a Swedish government fact-finding committee. Williams KO's Flores; Retains World Title

Yankee Stadium, New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Lethal Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., knocked out game little Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., in the 10th round of a rousing scrap at Yankee Stadium tonight to retain his world lightweight title.

Flores, down four times previously from Williams' smashing blows, finally succumbed to a terrific right uppercut which dumped him to his knees, and was counted out by Referee Mark Conn at 2:04 of the round.

In a 10-round companion piece which preceded the main event, welterweight champion Ray Robinson punched out a unanimous decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a non-title bout. A crowd of about 18,000 braved a chill wind to witness the star card put on by the 20th Century Sporting Club.

Of the two headline attractions, the championship test between Williams and the game little Mexican-American from the coast packed most of the thrills.

Williams, making his third straight title defense this year—a modern record in any weight division—slammed Flores to the canvas twice for counts of nine in the fifth round.

Twice more in the eighth Flores was dropped for counts of nine and eight, but until the instant that Williams finally nailed him in the 10th it looked as though the coast gamester would stick it out.

Possessed of the gall of a ticket speculator, the challenger came back after each of the first four knockdowns to fight Williams to a frazzle. After being dumped twice in the eighth Flores actually was "whaling the champ all over the ring when the bell clanged.

Flores' difficulty was that he couldn't hurt Williams—could only stall him off with a darting left and some very fancy footwork. Williams, on the other hand, threw cobbles. He stalked Flores steadily, held his fire until he had a target worth shooting at, and then tore the Mexican's head half off.

For it was Feller who climaxed a tremendous Redskins surge that lifted the club from third to a first place tie in the space of two weeks. It was the former Van Meter, Ia., farm boy who began the drive with a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Sept. 6, and it was he who kept it going yesterday with a brilliant 5-2 three-hit triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

"I feel one day and a hero the next," he added. Feller did not expand his remark, but it was clear he was referring to the harsh treatment he'd been receiving from fans this season because of substitutions. Feller standard performances, Bobby held his fire until he had a target worth shooting at, and then tore the Mexican's head half off.

PRISCILLA'S POPSTEVE CANYON*By AL VERMEER*By MILTON CANIFF

XXX
BY taking the earliest possible bus next morning Hilary arrived home before the others, who traveled by car after breakfast.

When Sabrina ran up to his room he was already there, and it never occurred to her that he had left it. He could tell by her face that last night's false security still existed. He wondered how long that would last.

Father gave it away at luncheon, by announcing that he had arranged to take rooms in Wells for the next month at least, instead of going up to Town with them tomorrow.

"Tomorrow!" said Sabrina incredulously.

"I shall be able to use the Wells Museum then, until my book is ready for the printer," Father explained.

"But you said I didn't have to go!" cried Sabrina. "Aunt Effie, you promised about Switzerland."

"Aunt Effie conceded cautiously. 'But when I thought you were going, I made arrangements to give up the lease here.'"

"When?"

"This week."

"But—" Sabrina looked blankly from one to the other.

"I wasn't going to tell you just yet," admitted Aunt Effie. "Not until you were rested, that is, but now that you know, you might as well start packing directly after luncheon. I thought with luck we might catch the 9 o'clock train in the morning. Your father wants the car left here, of course."

"Then it's over," said Sabrina hopelessly, not looking at them. "I've lost it—forever."

"What, dear? We thought of looking up places at the seashore for a month later on. Just you and me and Bella, you'd like that, wouldn't you?"

"Then why did she die?" queried Sabrina unreasonably, and there was a small gasp from Aunt Effie at the other end of the table.

"Because she had a fall just before you were born," he stated with brutal simplicity. "You were born too soon. It killed her."

"Alan—" Aunt Effie faltered into silence as that bleak, angry gaze came round to her.

"Sabrina's old enough to know these things," he asserted. "You should have told her long ago."

SABRINA left the table without a word, and went to her room and sat down there, sick and cold and faint. Her face felt rigid and drained, as though she had never smiled, and never would again.

Muffin came and got into her lap, digging in his claws, but she took no notice of him.

When Aunt Effie came up at tea time, bringing a large suitcase, Sabrina rose mechanically and began as requested to fill it with the contents of the chest of drawers.

Aunt Effie noticed with relief that at least she wasn't crying, and went away again, more or less on tiptoe.

Sabrina went down to dinner when she was called, and sat through the meal in silence, staring at her plate, deaf to remonstrances. After dinner she went back to her room and began to walk up and down the floor aimlessly, her hands locked together.

About 10 o'clock Aunt Effie looked in at the door and advised her to get a good sleep, as they had to be up early tomorrow. Obeying Sabrina undressed and got into bed.

It was 7 o'clock when she woke. Doggedly she washed her face and brushed her hair and dressed herself, and laid her toilet things and nightgown away in the dressing case, and went down to breakfast.

Her head felt very hot and much too big, her hands were icy, and her knees wobbled. All her will-power was in her stoic silence throughout that awful meal, while she sat dry-eyed, choking down a cup of hot tea. It was no good behaving like a baby, making scenes. And she mustn't look a fright with crying when she went up to tell Hilary goodbye.

When Father and Aunt Effie rose from the breakfast table she rose too and climbed the two flights to Hilary's room shakily, holding to the bannisters all the way.

300 Entries Expected For County Pet Show

Over 300 entries are expected for the annual fair Morgan county pet show, which will be held at the Academy lot on West College avenue Saturday afternoon. The event is being sponsored by the Humane association.

Association officers said last night that animals entered thus far include just about everything from a hamper, a foreign animal the size of a small rat and with a pouch similar to that of a kangaroo, to a full-grown horse.

Many Prizes

Entrants will be competing for an imposing array of prizes, including the trophy for grand champion of the show. Three awards will be made in each of the following classes: dogs, cats, miscellaneous, largest, smallest, oddest, youngest, oldest, and best groomed.

Animals will be on display from 1 until 5 p. m. Judging will begin at about 2 o'clock. Immediately

"This is the age of the common man," is a statement frequently heard today, but actually "this is the age of the uncommon man," said President H. Gary Hudson, addressing the student body and faculty of Illinois college at the opening convocation in Westminster Presbyterian church yesterday morning. The topic of Dr. Hudson's address was "What Do You Want From College?"

The American of today, in comparison with other countries, has undreamed of health, wealth and security. The burdens of production have been shifted from men to machines and Americans are under no fixed class status, the president said. There is no limit to choice of occupation nor limitation in pursuing it. But these individual freedoms may verge on license—we may forget duties while insisting on rights.

Quotes From Survey
Continuing, the president quoted from a recent survey made by Time Magazine among a representative section of all living college graduates, which indicated that in regard to measures of success the United States college graduate is 49 times as likely as a non-college man to appear in "Whos Who in America," and nearly 15 times as likely to make $10,000 a year as the non-college graduate. Eighty-four percent of the college graduates are business executives or professional men.

With this as background material, Dr. Hudson stated that the fundamental question at the beginning of the college year was for the students to ask themselves "What Do I Want From College?" The answer is for the student to provide. Quoting an old Spanish proverb, "God says, 'Take what you want and pay for it.'" Dr. Hudson pointed out to the students that their possibilities are without limit, but they must pay the price for what they take.

A Later Question
Your college training will prepare you to be a lawyer, or doctor or teacher—but your chosen profession will present another question—"What kind of a lawyer do you intend to be? Will you take any case which promises to increase your wealth? Is there a concept of justice? These questions immediately introduce a different standard of choice, a new measure of value and moral ideas in relation to yourself and your fellow men."

A well known philosopher, who for thirty years has studied the German people, recently pointed out three steps to the brutality of Buchenwald in their character:

1. We do not believe in God but we do believe in morals.

2. We believe in morals established by habit and custom, but right and wrong are social conventions which change as society changes.

3. We do not believe in morals and there is no God.

The world said the philosopher, is on the same slope and the descent takes only a few years. The United States is in stage two.

College Aim
"I hope that you will get knowledge and wisdom and a vision of eternal truth. You can learn here, if you will, that men have a common nature and that in terms of their common nature the common good can be determined. You can accept and live by the principles of morality based on the Christian belief in God, for what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world but lose his own soul?"

The Scripture was read by the Rev. Daniel E. Kerr, and following Dr. Hudson's address, announcements were made by Dean Ernest G. Hilder. The convocation ended with the singing of the Alma Mater. Mrs. Ralph Hutchison was the organist.

Hold Last Rites For Nelle Cohagan

Winchester—Funeral services for Mrs. Nelle Flynn Cohagan were conducted at the Winchester Christian church Thursday afternoon.

Miss Beily Leach and Richard Coultas sang, accompanied by Mrs. Ollie Scott.

The flowers were cared for by Miss Wand Lee Barnard, Mrs. Vera Chapman, Mrs. Betty McLaughlin, Mrs. Alice Hardy and Miss Barbara Flynn.

The casket bearers were: Herman Flynn, Charles Barnard, Fred Evans, Everett Patterson, Ernest Hart, Hunter Chapman and Harold Flynn. Burial was in Winchester cemetery.

To Inspect Animals
Dr. C. A. Henley and Jesse Wight will be on hand to inspect animals for possible communicable diseases.

Additional platform entertainment will be provided by the Shady Valley Folks and the Buckeye Four, who will appear at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Humane association Saturday night.

So many caged animals are entered that no attempt will be made to hold a pet parade.

Each exhibitor will be supplied with a numbered arm band for the convenience of judges and spectators.

Women Of State Street Church Meet Thursday

Plans for the annual bazaar were discussed Thursday when the Women's association of State Street church met for a potluck luncheon in the church parlors. Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, Mrs. Mabel Olsen and Mrs. Lloyd Magill were the hostesses.

The bazaar will be held on Dec. 7. All day sewing sessions for the bazaar will be held at the church each Tuesday.

Mrs. Jerry Copeland told of her visit to the Hawaiian Islands and illustrated her discussion by showing movies of the territory.

Mrs. Lawrence Crawford led devotions.

Mrs. Ray Patterson, the president, was in charge of the business meeting. Chairmen of several committees gave reports and three members, Mrs. Gail Ransom, Mrs. John Purdy and Mrs. H. S. Whalin, were named to the nominating committee. The next meeting will be a potluck luncheon on Oct. 28.

Winchester Club Group Meetings Held Recently

Winchester—The first meeting of the child study department of the Winchester Woman's club was held in the Legion home on Thursday evening with a potluck supper.

An interesting program was given by girl scouts, under the leadership of Barbara Tankersley and Jean Nelson.

Bands were played, with prizes going to Mrs. Thomas Coultas, Mrs. Roy Weder, Mrs. Fred Robinson and Mrs. Dana O'Donnell.

The October meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Hornbeck. The committee in charge is Mrs. Chester Knapp, Mrs. Florence Wills, Mrs. Jane Hazelrigg, Mrs. Josephine Coultas and Mrs. Melvon Glossop.

The household science department of the club held their opening meeting Wednesday at the Legion home. A potluck dinner was served, after which the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. T. C. Moore.

A talk was given by James Smith of Springfield, a General Electric representative in this district.

Among the several guests present were Mrs. Mary B. McKeene of St. Louis.

Hold Last Rites For Patrick Lyons Thursday Morning

The pallbearers were Bernard Lonergan, Thomas Cosgriff, Frank Carson, Frank Clancy, Gene Flood, Bud Lonergan, Adam Ehrigott and James Walls. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Seven Injured In Bus Wreck Near Detroit

Detroit, Sept. 23.—(P)—Seven persons aboard a Detroit-bound bus were seriously injured today when police said the vehicle cracked into the rear of a farm truck on the Willow Run expressway.

The bus driver and six passengers were taken to Wayne County General hospital in serious condition. Six other passengers were less seriously injured.

The Greyhound bus, en route from Chicago, plunged into a truck driven by Raymond Wentz of Waukegan, Ind., a few miles west of Detroit, bringing a load of potatoes into the city, was not hurt.

Passengers were trapped inside the vehicle until a Wayne county sheriff's officer climbed through an emergency door and cleared a passage. The bus driver, William F. Kakish, 31, of Berwyn, Ill., was unconscious when picked up from under the wheel.

U.S. Senator Brooks Speaks At Republican Rally Here Last Night

U. S. Senator C. Wayland Brooks keynoted the largest political gathering of the current campaign when he spoke at a Republican rally held here last night. Approximately 800 residents of Morgan county were on hand to hear him, Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton and two candidates on the state Republican ticket.

The rally got off to a rather late, but lively, start. The Central Illinois Fifth and Drum corps was on hand at the Republican quarters at 8 p. m. A few numbers there, they proceeded to the high school to await the arrival of the caravan, which appeared earlier at a large mass meeting in Winchester.

Report To Voters
Senator Brooks gave "my report to you, the people who have been kind enough to keep me in the senate for the past eight years."

Dressed in a neat powder-blue double-breasted suit, with white shirt and green bow tie, Brooks spoke calmly for half an hour.

During that time he defended his vote for passage of the Taft-Hartley labor law, discussed his leadership of the agricultural appropriations committee, asked for full support of the Dewey-Warren ticket and assailed the Democratic party for bungling foreign affairs.

He denied the statements of his Democratic opponent that he had not been friendly toward the R.E.A. and the soil conservation program.

More R.E.A. Funds
"In the last two years the R.E.A. has been authorized 800 million dollars more money than has been set aside for them in any two years of its history. But there are still 51,000 farm homes in Illinois that do not have electricity. I, for one, shall not rest until every farm in Illinois has electricity brought to its door," the senator said.

"And as chairman of the agricultural appropriations act, I assisted in allocating 43 million dollars to the soil conservation districts and 262 million dollars for conservation practices payments. I have no apologies to offer in either case."

He termed the Taft-Hartley act "a bill of emancipation for every union laborer."

Discusses Labor Law
In May 25, 1946, during a railroad strike which threatened the health and security of the nation, President Truman endeavored to push through a bill which allow him to draft in the army every member of the union.

"The Republicans refused to give him this power. The uniform of the American army shall never used as an emblem of punishment," the senator declared.

"There were 126 Democrats who voted for the Taft-Hartley act. It has brought fewer strikes with more production, more union members, more work and higher wages."

"But, he continued, 'if the labor leaders will attend public hearings and demonstrate that the law is damaging union labor any place in this nation, I shall be the first to offer them any help I can.'"

Pseudo-Liberals Dangerous
"The fuzzy-headed, pseudo-liberals right here at home present the greatest threat to our future security," Senator Brooks said. "They are basking under the false illusion that we can preserve our free economy with a government headed by totalitarian bureaucrats and, at the same time, retain our personal liberties."

"Such shallow thinkers and frustrated dissidents who are continuously and ruthlessly chopping at the very foundation of the principles which have made the United States the greatest, freest and most prosperous nation on earth, can do more harm than any external force could possibly do."

Seeks "Co-Operative President"
"If America is to remain a free country, the traitors who were so intent on destroying our government at home while our sons and daughters were sacrificing their lives on battlefields throughout the world, must be routed out and punished."

Sensor Brooks said, "this can be speedily accomplished by placing a cooperative president in the White House."

"Consequently," Brooks continued, "in this important year of 1948, I join other members of the Republican party in pledging a vigorous enforcement of existing laws against communists and enactment of such legislation as may be necessary to expose the treasonable activities of communists and defeat the objective of establishing here a Godless dictatorship from aboard."

"Would Unshackle Business"
Simon A. Murray, candidate for auditor of public accounts, asserted a Republican victory this fall would "unshackle business."

"One of the most important things to a large segment of our population which will be accomplished through a Republican victory will be the removal of the hobble-chains of bureaucracy from American business. When this is accomplished, the American industrial worker and the farmer will enjoy even greater benefits than they do today," he asserted.

Friends Laud Barrett
Attorney-General George F. Barrett was unable to be with the Republican caravan Thursday. His friends said Barrett was seeking re-election "on the basis of his record of legal service to the state."

"Vigorous efficiency has been the hallmark of Barrett's record," they said, pointing to his achievements during his tenure of office.

Included in that record are: "Attorney-General Barrett won for the State a clear-cut victory in the long Illinois Central Railroad litigation, gaining more than six million dollars in immediate revenue for the state treasury, and insuring an increase of approximately $1,500,000 annually in tax revenue from the railroad."

"He won a four-year campaign in the supreme court of the United

Annual Fall Opening Held Thursday Night

A sudden cool snap kept the crowd below expectations, but hundreds of window-shoppers crowded the business district last night as the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce staged its annual fall opening.

Merchandise Impressive
Return to pre-war quality and quantity of merchandise was evident to the sight-seers who viewed displays in brilliantly-lighted windows and leisurely roamed through numerous stores which had opened their doors for the occasion.

Well-stocked show cases and counters filled each place of business. No special sales effort was made during the evening, the merchants stressing the opportunity for people in the Jacksonville trade area to get a preview of what will be available here beginning tomorrow.

By 7 o'clock, when the opening was scheduled to get underway, all available parking places in the business district were filled and prospective customers were already filing into the various places of business.

Band Appears
As a special feature, the merchants arranged to have the Jacksonville high school band, under the direction of James Welch, visit the downtown area and entertain shoppers with music and marching. The aggregation made its appearance at 7:30 and completed a circuit of the square, stopping at each of the four corners for one selection.

Each store and window drew a share of the spectators' attention. The W. T. Grant store show attracted a large crowd. The show was staged in one of the store display windows and a public address system was used to tell shoppers about the clothing which was being modeled.

Alderman L. S. Reid Injured Thursday When Hit By Car

Dr. Vincent Lentz, who attended Alderman Reid at Our Saviour's hospital, reported that the accident victim suffered a fracture of the right arm near the wrist. Alderman Reid's right leg was swollen and bruised with a possible fracture. Further X-rays will probably be taken today.

Mr. Reid was suffering from shock when he was taken to the hospital in the Cooney ambulance.

Mr. DeFrates told police that he had stopped back of the sign on Church street. Mr. Reid was halted at the west curb, he said, and the victim and the automobile both began to move on at the same instant.

Mr. Reid's arm fracture is evidently a break of a previous fracture, which occurred while he was on a vacation trip to the north several years ago.
